

EB Screed Lid — Installation Protection Lid

14470142

The 14470142 EB Screed Lid from Cableaway is designed for use with Endura Series floor boxes in screed and concrete floor applications. Engineered to provide a durable and secure cover during the construction and screeding phase, it protects internal power and data services from concrete ingress and site damage while maintaining the floor box's position in the slab. Manufactured for strength and long-term performance, the lid is suited to high-traffic commercial and industrial environments. It ensures reliable protection throughout installation, making it ideal for both new builds and retrofit projects requiring clean, professional in-floor cable management solutions.
